

Biopharmaceutical Development & Production Week

- Antibody Development & Production
- Non-Antibody Protein Therapeutics
- Technology Transfer
- Process Validation
- Outsourcing

March 2-6, 2009 • La Costa Resort and Spa • Carlsbad, CA

Conference Highlights

153 Presenters provided comprehensive coverage of the topics across several disciplines and during every stage of development for upstream and downstream processing.

Standing-room only break-out discussions actively problem-solved the most challenging issues in bioprocessing.

The sold out exhibition for 2009 was the largest ever for this event with a total of 75 exhibitors.

14 Technology workshops gave companies the ability to showcase the tools and techniques that are driving the bioprocessing field.

Successful launch of IBC's Inaugural Non-Antibody Protein Therapeutics Development & Production complimenting the Annual Antibody Development & Production and expanding our programming to cover bioprocessing topics for all proteins.

Hear what the attendees had to say...

"This conference had an atmosphere of open interaction from the questions being asked in the very first session."

"The break-out discussion groups were engaging and interactive."

"Keynote presenters delivered high-energy talks that examined the dramatic and significant advances in bioprocessing along with the future challenges and developments that will require companies to employ aggressive innovation and adaptability to succeed."

"The quality of the presenters and the data were exceptional and few events give attendees the opportunity to hear from so many well-known figures in the

IBC's Biopharmaceutical Development & Production Week welcomed 668 attendees, including representatives from 18 of the top 20 pharmaceutical companies.

Attendee Job Title Profile:

Attendee Geographic Profile:

Mark Your Calendar: IBC's Biopharmaceutical Development & Production Week will be held on March 1-5, 2010 at the beautiful La Costa Resort and Spa.

Our goal is to deliver the best possible experience for all of our attendees. With that in mind, we have redesigned our meeting space for 2010 to have the conference rooms conveniently located in the Costa Del Sol Ballroom next to the exhibit hall.

For more information, please contact:

Chris Leger, Phone: 508-614-1439, E-mail: cleger@ibcusa.com
Kristen Schott, Phone: 508-614-1239, E-mail: kschott@ibcusa.com